

BASEMENT to BEECHEN CLIFF.

The Editorial Team expect 'The Book' to be available at the Annual Dinner at Bath Cricket Club on the 17th October. The price depends on the current negotiations with the printers, but we hope it will be about £10 per copy

If all goes according to plan, you can buy your copy or copies as Christmas presents to give to your children and grandchildren. This publication of over 100 pages has black & white and colour photographs with profiles of 38 Old Sulians', supplemented with pages of those who lost their lives in armed conflicts, past Head masters, past Head Boys & Girls and a brief history of the parent schools from their foundation in 1896. This will surely remind you of your days at School regardless of whether you were there during the CBBS or Beechen Cliff era. The Editorial Committee have been amazed at the diversity of the professions of former pupils who attended the School whatever its name and wherever located You will recognise old school colleagues who have served in the Armed Forces or the Church, or found success in sport, medicine, music, business, politics or science.

If you are unable to attend the Annual Dinner then reserve your copy by phone, e-mail or return the chit below. We will contact you in due course to confirm the price and post and packing. We will also update the web-site. We look forward to seeing or hearing from you.
