Dear Old Sulian,

Next week we publish the second edition of our school year book – ‘The Gryphon’. You will possibly have been given a copy at the Old Sulians’ dinner last October.

John Cruickshank, our Head of Economics, has worked tirelessly to bring together articles and photographs which have been assembled to create a publication which attempts to give an insight into the varied activities which make up an education at Beechen Cliff.

Alex Wood’s Systemagic has produced the piece, working on the design and arranging the printing. As you can appreciate it is important that parents and friends of the school purchase a copy to ensure that we can continue the fine tradition started many years ago with the production of “The Sulian”.

At £10 a copy it is an eighty-four page highly ‘professional’ soft-backed book, fit to grace any coffee table and a fitting tribute to another varied year at the school.

We would be very grateful if you could purchase a copy, helping the school meet its obligations to our suppliers (!) and also allowing you to see how much goes on at your old school.

At the end of this email there is a ‘tear off’ slip which can be completed and sent to the school, together with a cheque for £10, made payable to Beechen Cliff School. We will then send you a copy of ‘The Gryphon’ upon publication!

Thank you so much for your anticipated support.

Yours sincerely,

A Davies
